

How It Works:

First measure the distance,

↑ then find the same number here –
that's the center.